Comments:
The Constitution guarantees the right to associate.

References:
Article 17 of the Liberian Constitution
YES: A YES score is earned when freedom to assemble into groups promoting good governance or anti-corrupt sub-national level is protected by law, regardless of political ideology, religion or objectives. Groups with a history or terrorism (within last ten years) may be banned. Groups sympathetic to or related to banned groups must be they have no history of violence.

NO: A NO score is earned when any single non-violent group is legally prohibited from organizing at the sub-national level to promote good governance or anti-corruption. These groups may include non-violent separatist groups, political, and religious groups.

1b. In law, anti-corruption/good governance CSOs at the sub-national level are free to accept funding from any domestic sources.

YES | NO

Comments:
Any group is free to solicit and receive funding from whatever source without restrictions, except that they have to disclose sources of funding when applying for NGO re-registration.

YES: A YES score is earned if anti-corruption/good governance CSOs at the sub-national level face no legal or restrictions to raise or accept funds from any foreign or domestic sources. A YES score may still be earned if further groups with a history of violence or terrorism (within last ten years) are banned.

NO: A NO score is earned if there are formal legal or regulatory bans on foreign or domestic funding sources for the sub-national level focused on anti-corruption or good governance.

1c. In law, anti-corruption/good governance CSOs at the sub-national level are required to disclose their source.

YES | NO

Comments:
CSO's are required to disclose their source of funding by law to Ministry of Planning and Economic Affairs, but this is not enforced.
Note on sources for sub-national indicator 1c: Before 2007 or 2008 to be more precise, NGOs operated under the Business Association or Association Law. But as of 2007/08 this has slightly changed. CSOs can operate under the title of a new law which would require no registration with the Ministry of Planning, thus requiring no disclosure, but in such case, they are considered NGOs by the government, they are or would be considered as Association which can come into being of the legislature (for example groups like Federation of Liberian Youth, Liberia National Student Union or Young Association, all enacted by legislation. All of these group still optionally registered with Planning as NGO’s and are thus required to disclose as per the new guidelines, i.e NGO Guidelines) or they can do both, get incorporated by the Ministry of Finance and Planning for NGO registration. When they apply for an NGO registration, they are required to disclose. Thus depending on the way groups come to being in a county, the answer may be no” or “yes”. Most groups in Montserrado or counties close to Libreville have access to the Ministry of Planning. But it is however keen to note that prior to June 1, 2008, no groups were required to disclose as per regulation. Disclosure was arbitrarily required as indicated by Ministry of Planning re-accreditation procedure, which never supported by any guidelines or law.

YES: A YES score is earned if anti-corruption/good governance CSOs at the sub-national level are required to disclose their sources of funding.

NO: A NO score is earned if no such public disclosure requirement exists.

2. Are good governance/anti-corruption CSOs at the sub-national level able to operate?

100: Civil society organizations focused on anti-corruption or good governance at the sub-national level are an essential component of the political process. CSOs provide widely valued insights and have political power. Those CSOs play a leading role in shaping public opinion on political matters.

75:

50: Anti-corruption/good governance CSOs at the sub-national level are active, but may not be relevant to political or the policymaking process at the sub-national level. Those CSOs are willing to articulate opinions on political matters, but they have little access to local decision makers. They have some influence over public opinion, but considerably less than pro-government groups.

0: Other than pro-government groups, CSOs focused on promoting good governance or anti-corruption at the sub-national level are effectively prohibited, either by official requirements or by unofficial means, such as intimidation or fear ofreprisal.

Comments:
The survey above was carried out by CENTAL and Search For Common Ground on the GEMAP Process to ascertain what the public was aware of what is in the document for them, how they felt about it and how it could benefit them. This information was compiled and sent to stakeholders involved. This is an example of how CSOs got involved in political and policy making processes.

YES: A YES score is earned if there were no CSOs at the sub-national level shut down by the government or forced to cease operations because of their work on corruption-related issues during the study period.

NO: A NO score is earned if any CSO at the sub-national level has been effectively shut down by the government to cease operations because of its work on corruption-related issues during the study period. The causal relation between the cessation of operations and the CSO’s work may not be explicit, however the burden of proof here seems likely that the CSO was forced to cease operations due to its work, then the indicator is scored as a NO. Defined broadly to include any abuses of power, not just the passing of bribes.

YES: A YES score is earned if there were no local journalists imprisoned related to work covering corruption at the national level during the study period. A YES score is positive.

NO: A NO score is earned if any journalist was jailed because of his/her work covering corruption at the sub-national level during the study period. The causal relationship between the official charges and the local journalist's work may be implicit, however the burden of proof here is low. If it seems likely that the journalist was imprisoned due to his/her work then the indicator is scored as a NO. Corruption is defined broadly to include any abuses of power, not just the payment of bribes. Imprisoned" is defined here as detention by the local government lasting more than 24 hours.

11b. In practice, in the past year, no journalists investigating corruption at the sub-national level have been physically harmed.
YES: A YES score is earned if there were no documented cases of journalists being assaulted during the specified period for their work covering corruption issues at the sub-national level. A YES score is positive.

NO: A NO score is earned if there were any documented cases of assault to a journalist covering corruption at the sub-national level during the study period. Corruption is defined broadly to include any abuses of power, not just the bribes.

YES: In practice, in the past year, no journalists investigating corruption at the sub-national level have been killed.

YES: A YES score is earned if there were no documented cases of journalists being killed because of their work covering corruption-related issues at the sub-national level during the study period. A YES score is positive.
A NO score is earned if there were any documented cases where a journalist was killed in relation to his or her covering corruption-related issues at the sub-national level in the study period. The relationship between a mystery and an individual’s work may not be clear, however the burden of proof here is low. If it is a reasonable guess that a journalist was killed in relation to his or her work on corruption issues, then the indicator is scored as a NO. Corruption is broadly to include any abuses of power, not just the passing of bribes.

12. Do citizens have a legal right of access to information at the sub-national level?

12a. In law, citizens have a right of access to government information and basic government records at the sub-national level.

YES | NO

100: Sub-national budget debates are public and records of these proceedings are easily accessible. Authors of budget items can easily be identified. Nearly all budget negotiations are conducted in these official proceedings.

75:

50: There is a formal, transparent process for sub-national budget debates, but major budget modifications may be negotiated in separate, closed sessions. Some items, such as non-secret defense projects, may be negotiated in separate, closed sessions. Authors of individual line items may be difficult to identify.
Sub-national budget negotiations are effectively closed to the public. There may be a formal, transparent process, but most real discussion and debate happens in other, closed settings.

23b. In practice, citizens provide input at sub-national budget hearings.

Comments:
There is no formal hearings or public debate of the budget on the sub-national level, however citizens or even public officials may contribute to the process through meetings with their lawmakers. Recently, every county has come up with a list of priorities for their development budgets, and this is for the next five years.

32c. In practice, the internal reporting mechanism for public sector corruption at the sub-national level receives funding.

Comments:
There is no such mechanism at the local or national level. Civil Servants must use internal chain of command to report breach of procedures or the law.
100: The agency/entity has a predictable source of funding that is fairly consistent from year to year. Political considerations are not a major factor in determining agency funding.

Comments:
Courts of law generally recognize both of these ownership. Customary ownership would be for Communal land, but such land must have been deeded. In the rural area, too, customary ownership is recognized but is becoming fast to tribal disputes over land ownership. For example, the Mandigoes and Manos conflict for land in Nimba and the Lofa Mandigoes for land in Lofa.

The director of the agency serves a defined term and cannot be removed without a significant justification through a formal process, such as impeachment for abuse of power.

The director of the agency serves a defined term, but can in some cases be removed through a combination of unofficial pressure.

The director of the agency can be removed at the will of political leadership.

In practice, the sub-national audit agency has a professional, full-time staff.

The agency has staff sufficient to fulfill its basic mandate.

The agency has limited staff that hinders its ability to fulfill its basic mandate.

The agency has no staff, or a limited staff that is clearly unqualified to fulfill its mandate.

Comments:
Given the call for punishment on those involved in misuse of public funds, it is likely that the government(national) take some action. But the local governments by themselves cannot take strong remedial action on audit reports. Fi government too, it has still not been able to hold accountable certain people the public feel need to answer questi Managing Director of the LPRC, Legislators accused of taking bribe. Comments:
Some of the customary courts hear cases far out of their jurisdiction. And cases began under the customary system easily be transferred in terms of appeal to a formal court, therefore the issues of jurisdictional boundaries are there. But courts are supposed to look in cases like murder and capital crimes, this is however ignored, as some people char may be subject to trial by ordeal, especially those accused of witchcraft.

CSOs serve as mediators between the community and the formal justice system if customary law fails to resolve disputes satisfactorily. CSOs are independent from the state, sub-national government, and other factions. These organizations are staffed by local authorities with experience in traditional dispute resolution.

CSOs are occasionally available to mediate between the community and the formal justice system. In some state, sub-national government, and other factions have influence on the CSOs. These organizations have few ties with local authority and expertise in traditional dispute resolution.

Comments:
On the local level officers are more afraid to enforce the law against those who they feel are highly connected, such as Lebanese Business Merchants and higher ups that are well connected to the power that be. So the officer prefers to protect their jobs than to enforce the law.
100: The agency (or agencies) operates independently of the political process and has operational independence from government. All laws can be enforced regardless of the status of suspects or the sensitivity of the investigation.

75:

50: The agency (or agencies) is typically independent, yet is sometimes influenced in its investigations or enforcement actions by negative or positive political incentives. This may include favorable or unfavorable public criticism by the national government or other forms of influence. The agency (or agencies) may not be provided with some information needed to carry out its investigations.

25:
